1. Background

On 22nd November 2005 the landlord's agent applied to the rent officer for registration of a fair rent of £1,680 per calendar month for the above property.

The rent payable at the time of the application was £560 per calendar month.

The rent was previously registered on 20th January 2004 with effect from that date at £560 per calendar month following a determination by a Rent Assessment Committee.

On 15th December 2005 the Rent Officer registered a fair rent of £619.50 per calendar month with effect from 20th January 2006.

By a letter dated 11th January 2006 the landlord objected to the rent determined by the Rent Officer and the matter was referred to the Rent Assessment Committee.

2. Inspection

The Committee inspected the property on 7th March 2006 and found it to be in fair condition as described more particularly in the Rent Officer's survey sheet which had been copied to the parties.

3. Evidence

No written representations were received from the tenant. Written representations were received from the landlord and these were copied to the tenant.

Neither party requested a hearing at which oral representations could be made.

4. The law

When determining a fair rent the Committee, in accordance with the Rent Act 1977, section 70, had regard to all the circumstances including the age, location and state of repair of the property. It also disregarded the effect of (a) any relevant tenant's improvements and (b) the effect of any disrepair or other defect attributable to the tenant or any predecessor in title under the regulated tenancy, on the rental value of the property.

In Spath Holme Ltd v Chairman of the Greater Manchester etc. Committee (1995) 28 HLR 107 and Curtis v London Rent Assessment Committee [1999] QB 92 the Court of Appeal emphasized

- (a) that ordinarily a fair rent is the market rent for the property discounted for 'scarcity' (i.e. that element, if any, of the market rent, that is attributable to there being a significant shortage of similar properties in the wider locality available for letting on similar terms - other than as to rent - to that of the regulated tenancy) and
- (b) that for the purposes of determining the market rent, assured tenancy (market) rents are usually appropriate comparables. (These rents may have to be adjusted where necessary to reflect any relevant differences between those comparables and the subject property).

5. Valuation

Thus in the first instance the Committee determined what rent the landlord could reasonably be expected to obtain for the property in the open market if it were let today in the condition that is considered usual for such an open market letting. It did this by having regard to the comparable information supplied by the landlord and the Committee's own general knowledge of market rent levels in Burnham. Having done so it concluded that such a likely market rent would be £850 per calendar month.

However, the actual property is not in the condition considered usual for a modern letting at a market rent. Therefore it was first necessary to adjust that hypothetical rent of £850 per calendar month to allow for the differences between the condition considered usual for such a letting and the condition of the actual property as observed by the Committee (disregarding the effect of any disrepair or other defect attributable to the tenant or any predecessor in title). The Committee considered that this required a deduction of £85 per calendar month.

The Committee found that there was substantial scarcity in the locality and therefore deducted a further sum of approximately £115 per calendar month from the market rent to reflect this element.

This leaves a net market rent for the subject property of £650 per calendar month.

6. Decision

The fair rent initially determined by the Committee, for the purposes of section 70, was accordingly £650 per calendar month.

However, by virtue of the Rent Acts (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999 the maximum fair rent that can be registered in the present case is the lower sum of £620 per calendar month (Details are provided on the back of the decision form).

Accordingly the sum of £620 per calendar month will be registered as the fair rent with effect from 7th March 2006 being the date of the Committee's decision.
